Youth Actions

Sustainable development can never be achieved without the effort of the campus owners, i.e. the students and teachers.

In PLK Laws Foundation College, a lot of opportunities are provided to students to build up their capacity in moving closer towards a sustainable campus and a sustainable lifestyle.

In our belief, direct-engagement of students into activities is the most effective means of understanding on sustainable development.

Since 2005, more than 40 students have taken part in international conferences and activities. They have presented their researches findings and experienced the real meaning of sustainability.
